

(ANC) 0:08

The Slutzker Center has been helping Syracuse University international students for more than 50 years. But now they are going through a change. N-C-C's Jose Lara tells us more

(TRACK 1)

After more than 30 years Doctor Patricia Burak has left her position as director of the Slutzker Center. George Athanas has replaced Doctor Burak as interim director. Athanas worked for 12 years in the Office of Residence Life. He thinks his experience has helped in this new challenge

[TAKE SOT

NAME: Interim Director George Athanas

INCUE: Worked with

OUTCUE: this role DURATION:0'12"]

<"I worked with students all the time dealing with home sickness, kind of their academic transitions, roommates, conflict resolutions, so a lot of that carries over into this role">

(Track 2)

Athanas says he wants to help students

[TAKE SOT

NAME: Interim Director George Athanas

DURATION:0'06"]

<"Providing space for a voice that can be heard, my hope is that we can be a first step in that process">

(Track 3)

Athanas says the full time director will be named in January, for N-C-C News I am Jose Lara.