Syracuse Van Duyn Rehabilitation Center has found a new creative way to fundraise for Upstate University Hospital Cancer Center.

(TRACK 1)

Each year the Van Duyn Center choose a different cause to fundraise for and this year its cause is Uterine (YOU-ter-Ran) cancer.

Kayla Winters Administrative Assistant for the Van Duyn Rehabilitation Center said the food events are always really popular, so why not try some fit classes.

<" Since this is out third year in a row, we wanted to think of some different fundraisers instead of just same thing we did the last two years">

(Track 2)

The Center will hosted its first outdoor yoga class this weekend in honor of Cathy Martinez, a Van Duyn Corporate employee who recently died from uterine cancer.

While thinking different Winters said this hit home for a lot of them so why not make this year fundraiser about Cathy Martinez.

<" She passed away in December I believe, so this kind of hits home for a lot of people as they knew her">

(Track 3)

Memorial Funds will go to Upstate University Hospital to be used for women with uterine cancer.
